Protecting Classified & Sensitive Information Is Our Business
Failure Is Not An Option

INSIDER THREAT
Acts of commission or omission by an Insider that intentionally or unintentionally compromises the USFG, DoD or the IC abilities to accomplish its mission. These acts include, but are not limited to, espionage, criminal activities, unauthorized disclosure of information, or any other activity resulting in the less or degradation of departmental resources or capabilities

THE HIDDEN THREATS IN YOUR ORGANIZATION
These security threats are in your office right now. They have the ability to bypass the physical controls that protect your facility, and bypass the technical controls that protect the perimeter of the network. They have already obtained credentials to access significant portions of your internal facilities, computer networking infrastructure and classified information. What is this threat? It's the often silent and underestimated Insider Threat.

COUNTERESPIONAGE.US
